PREFACE.

The tables in this volume contain ephemeral matter which it has been found undesirable to include in the text of the Gazetteer of Sibi.

Under the orders of the Government of India, the statistics are to be re-compiled and a new edition of this volume brought out after each census.

The volume can also be expanded by adding to it, in the interleaved blank forms, any matter that the district and other officers who use it may require to correct or supplement the text in the A volume. This process is to go on till the Local Government considers revision of the text in the A volume necessary, when all supplementary text matter, embodied at each periodical revision, will be incorporated in the new A volume, and volume B will revert to its original form as a statistical appendix.

A McCONAGHEY, MAJOR.

Quetta, December 1906.

PRINCIPAL ROUTES

IN THE

SIBI DISTRICT.

LIST OF ROUTES.

I.—Sibi-Pishín Route.

II.—Quetta-Ziárat-Smállan Road.

III.—Sibi-Jacobábád Route.

IV.—Sibi-Dera Bugti-Rojhán Route.

V.—Sibi-Kahán-Kohlu Route.

VI.—Harnai-Loralai Route.

VII.—Dera Bugti-Jacobábád Route.

VIII.—Lashkar Khán-Kot Malguzár Route.

NOTES.—(1) The route lists are intended primarily for District officials. They merely indicate the more important routes used by caravans, etc., and make no pretension to be exhaustive. Distances, except when drawn from published route lists, are approximate only. A distance, not taken from a public route list, is marked by the letter c, i.e., circa.

(2) The following nomenclature has been used:—

Metalled Road } indicates that a road is fit for Unmetalled Road } carts.

Bridle-path indicates a made path fit for camel and other pack transport.

A track is unmade, but usually fit for camel transport.

A footpath or path is ordinarily used by runners and footmen, but is generally fit for horses and donkeys and is traversable even by loaded camels in many cases.

Tandúri. L. P., R. S., C.	8	15¾	......	At c 3 miles is passed the Filangi Kusutagh flat which is owned by the Langáni Marrís and cultivated every third year. A footpath runs to Bádra by Rékhmi and another called Bor to Khajjak. This is used when the Nári river is in flood. To the south-east of the station is the Sahtak Kund flat and to its north-east the Sohrén Dhár.
Bábar Kach. L. P., R. S., T.	8¼	24	......	At 1¾ miles from Tandúri is Kaláti Kila, once a military post, but now abandoned. The Béji river joins the Bádra at c 1½ miles from Bábar Kach. (a) A track from Bábar Kach to Quetta via Sángán (c 83 miles). (b) An unmetalled road to Quat and Mandai (c 11 miles), and thence a footpath by the Arand Pass to Khajak and Sibi (c 32 miles),

NOTE.—R. S. = Railway Station.
R. S. C. = Railway Station (closed for traffic).
L. P. = Levy Post.
T. = Telegraph.
P. O. = Post Office.

* Unless otherwise stated the side-paths start from places in col. 1, opposite which they are mentioned.

Spíntangi or Ganéji, R.S., L.P., T.—(contd)	20	44	......	traffic) is passed at $7\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Bábár Kach. About four miles from Kucháli is Bandki, where there is a Railway gangmen's hut known by the gangmen as the Kálápáni on account of the dearth of water. Hence a footpath to Harnai called Phoradag. Another footpath called the Dédáni Charwát runs over the Minán Sohr hill and descends into Spíntangi. This is only used by footmen in winter. At $8\frac{1}{4}$ miles from Kucháli is the Dalujál Levy Post and Railway station (closed), whence a footpath takes off to Quat over the Uch Takrai and another along the bed of the Dáda stream to Mián Kach and Harnai through the Zoi Tangi. This track was formerly used by caravans. At c $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Spíntangi the main path to Mián Kach branches off and is much used by the local people. There is an unmetalled road from Spíntangi to Duki via Kuriák (8 miles), whence a path runs to Pur over the Lakar hill. This is difficult for pack animals. An unmetalled road to the valley branches off at 2 miles from Kuriák, the distance from Spíntangi to Pur being c 28 miles. The distances from Kuriak to the following places are as follows. Kandi Levy post ($11\frac{1}{2}$ miles), Sembar camp (14 miles), Dabar Kot ($12\frac{1}{2}$ miles) and Duki ($9\frac{1}{2}$ miles).

Stages.	Intermediate distances in miles.	Total distances in miles.	Accommodation for travellers.	Remarks and side paths.
Harnai, R.S., L.P., T., P.O.	16	60	Dâk Bungalow, Political Officer's Rest-house, Serai.	Sunri village is passed at about 7½ miles, whence a track goes to Warikha (c 24 miles), from which there is a path to Duki over the Fakír Narai (c 24 miles). Warikha to Pur is c 7 miles. Sanjáwi is 38 miles, Duki 58 miles and Loralai 55¼ miles by a metalled cart road.
Sháhrig, R.S., L.P., T., P.O. Tahsíl head-quarters.	16¼	76¼	Rest-house, Political Officer's Rest-house.	The Nasak Railway station is passed at 8 miles and the Shahédar Ziárat at about 5 miles further on. Footpaths from Sháhrig to Ziárat by Wuch Aghbargai (22 miles), and by Doméra (21 miles), the latter is extremely difficult and fit for foot passengers only. There is another path to Ziárat via Punga (about three miles from Shahrig) and the Dozakh Narai.
Khost L.P, R.S., T., P.O.	11½	87¾	Railway Rest-house.	At about three miles from Shahrig is the Amboh village, whence a path goes to Sángán over the Sar Bázhae Narai through Súr Kár and Kamán Tangi.

ROUTE I.—SIBI-PISHIN ROUTE.—continued

Stages.	Intermediate distance in miles.	Total distance in miles.	Accommodation for travellers.	Remarks and side-paths.
Mángi, R.S., L.P., T.	15¾	103½		The Zardálu Railway station is passed at about five miles from Khost, and about half a mile further a footpath branches off to the Hanna valley over the Uzhda psha pass. This path was largely used by the people before the railway was built. Dirgi Railway station is about three and a half miles further. Hence footpaths take off to Kásim Tangi by the Zauki rift, and to Mángi by the Chhappar rift, locally known as the Dirgi Tangi. The main road goes over the Chhappar hill by the Kazha Liár (winding path), the distance to the top being c 4 miles, whence a path descends into the Mángi valley. From Mángi there is a good bridle path to Ziárat through the Kásim Tangi (21 miles), and a footpath to Kánr through the Khum Tangi. The latter is not fit for horses.
Kach(Kats), R.S., L. P., T.	12¼	115¾	Rest-house. (Khánsámah maintained during summer months).	About 6 miles from Mángi is the Mudgorge Railway station, locally known as the Zangal or Kúz station. Hence a footpath takes off to Tor Shor in Zarghún Ghar (c 12 miles). About three miles further a footpath goes to Hamadún by Wargas Plae. The Kach fort now used as a Levy post is about 1½ miles from the Railway station. Ziárat is 32¾ miles, and Quetta 28⅝ miles by a metalled cart road.

ROUTE I.—SIBI-PISHIN ROUTE.—concluded.

Stages.	Intermediate distance in miles.	Total distance in miles.	Accommoda-tion for travellers.	Remarks and side-paths.
Gharkai Camp.	11	126¾		The Bráhímán Kotal is about 3 miles from Kach, the water shed of which is the boundary between the Sháhrig tahsíl of the Sibi District and the Pishín tahsíl of the Quetta-Pishín District. About 6 miles further on the Zawarkar-Quetta road branches off.
Pishín, T., P. O., Head-quarters of Pishín Sub-division.	16¼	143	Rest House, Political Rest-house.	The road runs along the bed of the Spézhanai nullah and joins the Pishín-Déra Ghazi Khan road at 8¾ miles from Pishín.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The total distance from Sibi to Pishín is 143 miles. The height of Sibi is 350 feet above the sea level, and the highest point along the route is the Bráhímán Kotal which is 5,633 feet. The principal streams passed are the Nári and its affluents which is crossed several times in the first 24 miles; the Gandakíndaff between Bábar Kach and Kucháli; Dáda and Kuriák between Dalújál and Spíntangi; Loe Lahr and Sare Lahr between Spíntangi and Sunri; Súrwám, Shahédar and Punga between Harnai and Sháhrig; Amboh, Khost and Dirgi mándas and the Zhizhgai, which last named lies between Mángi and Kach and the Kákar Lora. The last part of the road between Kach and Pishín is in good condition.

The water-supply along the whole route is obtained from running streams or from springs, and is generally good and abundant. The water at Kach is considered laxative. There are bazars at Sibi, Spíntangi, Harnai, Sháhrig, Khost and Pishín, and shops at Dirgi, Mángi and Kach, where ordinary native provisions in limited quantities are procurable. For supplies in large quantities, and for fowls, eggs, milk, sheep and goats, fuel, and fodder at these places, and for supplies at all other places previous notice should be given to the Tahsíldárs through the Political Agents concerned. The country between Sibi and Spíntangi lies in the Sibi Sub-division, from Spíntangi to Kach inclusive in the Sháhrig tahsíl of the Sibi District and Gharkai and Pishín in the Pishín tahsíl of the Quetta-Pishín District.

ROUTE II.—QUETTA-ZIARAT-SMALLAN ROAD.

Kach, R. S., L. P., T., P.O.	8¼	28¾	Rest-house, Dák Bungalow.	A link road to Bráhímán in the Sháhrig tahsíl branches off at 27¼ miles from Quetta. (a) Track to Fuller's Camp over the Ush Narai Kotal. (b) Track to Kach village, Hamadún (5 miles), Gogi (4 miles) and Tangi (3 miles). A fort, now occupied by Levies, is 1½ miles from the station.
Kánr Levy Post.	16¾	45½	Rest-house Dák Bungalow.	A pass locally called Loarai band but also known as the Wám Kotal is reached at 9¾ miles. Path from Kánr to Tangi over the Tsaru pass and thence to Gogi and Hamadún. This path is steep and difficult.

ROUTE II.—QUETTA-ZIÁRAT SMÁLLAN ROAD.—contd.

Stages.	Intermediate distances in miles.	Total distances in miles.	Accommodation for travellers.	Remarks and side-paths.
Ziárat (Gushki) L.P., T., P.O. Head-quarters of Sibi District during summer months.	16	61½	Rest-house, Dák Bungalow).	(a) From the fort across the Kowás stream at 4½ miles a good bridle-path goes to Spérarágha 9½ miles. (b) At Zandra, 2½ miles from Kowás, there is a Levy Post and also an unfurnished M.W.D. hut. A bridle-path runs through the Zandra Tangi to Manra (c 8 miles), from which place there is a track which leads to Chichanak, Ghwanz and Pui (c 21 miles). From Manra Spérarágha can be reached through the Zargai Tangi (8 miles.) (d) A foot-path, sometimes used by laden bullocks and donkeys, goes from Manra to Karbi Kats (15 miles). It passes through Gharata Mánda, Chisana Manra, the juniper forest over the slopes of the Kása hill, the Sareobo Tsari, Much Tangi, Dhre Tangi, and at places is difficult for horses. The last 5 or 6 miles run through a gorge enclosed by high hills. (e) A good bridle-path fit for horses and laden camels connects Ziárat with Mángi station 21 miles. (f) Foot-path from Ziárat to Sháhrig via Wuch Aghbargai (22 miles). (g) Foot-path over the Doméra hill to Shàhrig (21 miles). This path is steep and difficult, and only fit for foot passengers.
Chautér (Levy Post).	16	77½	Rest House	At about ten miles is Karbi Kats from which there is a foot-path to Manra. (a) From Chautér a track fit for laden camels runs over the Kazha Narai pass and then descends into the Shírín valley (3 miles). Pui is reached at about 8 miles further on.
Smállan (Levy Post) T., P. O.	24½	102	Dâk Bungalow. Serai.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The total distance from Quetta to Smállan is 102 miles. The road, which is maintained by the Military Works Department, is bridged and partially metalled and is fit for carts. It is liable to be blocked by snow during the winter months. At Ziárat Tsari, about 4 miles from Ziárat, it crosses the highest point (8,600 feet) traversed by any cart road in Baluchistán. The part between Kowás and Smállan possesses interest from the fact that a portion of it was travelled over and described by Richard Steel and John Crowther, English merchants, who made their way from India to Persia in 1614. They mention Durues or gates of the mountains (apparently Dhre Tangi), Coasta or Kowás and Abdun or Hamadún. In the Wani valley, 4 miles from Chautér, are to be seen the ruins of the three villages known collectively as Seh Kota and separately as Káraván kila, Ráni kila, and Dom kila. Smállan lies on the Harnai-Loralai cart road, 36 miles from Harnai and 19¼ miles from Loralai. Duki is about 22 miles from Smállan. About 6 miles from Chautér a foot-path, made in the spring of 1897 under the orders of Colonel Gaisford, leads to Pui over the Khatki or Taki hill. From Rigora (14 miles) a track goes to Pui, 14 miles. Gandak and Sarántangi lie in the Quetta tahsíl, Kach, Kánr and Ziárat in the Sháhrig tahsíl of the Sibi District and Chautér and Smállan in the Sanjáwi sub-tahsíl of the Loralai District. Khánsámahs are maintained at Kach, Kánr and Ziárat Rest Houses from May to September.

The water-supply at Gandak is small but good, at Kach it is abundant but somewhat salt and laxative. At other places it is abundant and good.

There are shops at Kánr, Ziárat and Chautér during May to September, half a dozen permanent shops at Smállan and one at Kach, at which atta, grain, fuel and native provisions are procurable. Supplies of all descriptions are obtainable at Ziárat during the season. For other places previous notice should be given to the Tahsíldárs concerned through the Political Agent.

During the season pony tongas ply between Kach Railway station and Ziárat, and baggage camels are procurable on hire. To obtain these, application should be made to the Thánadár of Ziárat.

ROUTE III.—SIBI-JACOBÁBÁD ROUTE.

Jacobábád (in Sind) R.S,T.,P. O. Head-quarters of Upper Sind Frontier District.	31	104	Political Rest-house.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The total distance from Sibi to Jacobábád is 104 miles. The track lies mostly over pat and affords easy going in ordinary weather, but becomes difficult and indeed almost impassable after heavy rain. Mall lies within the Sibi tahsíl, and Sháhpur, for purposes of political control, is included in the Nasírábád Sub-division. The intermediate stages lie in the Lahri niábat of Kalat, but the Political Agent, Sibi, exercises political control over the Dombki and Kahéri tribes. There are villages and banias' shops at each stage, and ordinary native provisions and fodder are obtainable in small quantities, forlarger quantities previous notice should be given to the Political Agent, Sibi. Drinking water is obtained from wells, and the quality is said to be fair except at Théri, where the water is brackish. The quantity obtainable at each stage is however limited, and in the case of troops intending to use this route, previous notice should be given to the Political Agent, Sibi.

ROUTE IV.—SIBI-DERA BUGTI-ROJHÁN ROUTE.

Stages.	Intermediate approximate distances in miles.	Total distances in miles.	Accommodation for travellers.	Remarks and side-paths.

Rojhán ...	11	199	Dak Bungalow.	Head-quarters of the Mazári chief, 38 miles from Rajanpur, and 125 miles from Déra Ghází Khán.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The total distance from Sibi to Rojhán is about 199 miles. Up to Dinghán the country is open and easy. After this the path enters the hills and turns in an easterly direction to Loti, whence it takes a southerly direction as far as Kabodráni; after Kabodráni it again turns in an easterly direction. Sibi and Mall lie in the Sibi tahsíl of the Sibi District, the country from Théri to Lahri is in the Dombki country, from Dinghán to Khajúri in the Bugti Tribal Area, and thence onward in the Mazári (Punjab) limits. In ordinary years grass and fuel are obtainable at each stage.

Previous notice for supplies should be given to the Political Agent, Sibi, for places between Sibi and Khajúri inclusive), and to the Deputy Commissioner of Déra Gházi Khán for the other stages.

An alternative route, which lies in comparatively more populated and better cultivated country, would be from Lahri to Phuléji (Kahéri village, c 16 miles), Sháhpur (Bugti Levy Post and a Saiad village, c 24 miles), Shahr Karam Khán in the Nasírábád tahsíl (c 18 miles), Sanari Levy Post in Nasírábád (c 19 miles), Malguzár (c 15 miles), a village in Nasírábád, Puchár Adya (c 20 miles), a village in the Kashmor circle of the Jacobábád District, Sháhwáli (c 18 miles), a Mazári village in the Déra Gházi Khán District and Rojhán (c 18 miles). The total distance from Lahri to Rojhán being about 148 miles.

TABLE XII.—TRAVELLERS' BUNGALOWS.

There are three kinds of travellers' bungalows in the District, namely, (1) dák bungalows, (2) rest-houses, and (3) Political bungalows and Civil and Public Works Inspection bungalows. The standing orders relating to them (1905) are reproduced briefly below.

Dák bungalows and rest-houses.

No permission is required for the occupation of dák bungalows and rest-houses. All Government servants, European and Indian, drawing Rs. 100 per mensem and over, náib tahsíldárs, European and native private gentlemen, native commissioned officers and European clerks are entitled to shelter. Other Government servants in superior service drawing less than Rs. 100 per mensem, as well as European soldiers, are entitled to shelter in a special room set apart in the compound. Sepoys, police menials and native travellers, other than those mentioned above, are entitled to accommodation, free of charge, in the shelters attached to the out-houses. The charge is Re. 1 and annas 8 respectively for each person occupying a dák bungalow or rest-house for every 24 hours or part thereof. Servants of such persons are entitled to accommodation in the out-houses free of extra charge. Each person occupying the special room in a dák bungalow already referred to is required to pay Ans. 2 and in a rest-house An. 1 for the same period. There is no limit to the period of occupation. Food is supplied in the dák bungalows at the rates laid down in the tariff hung up in the rooms, unless terms are specially agreed upon. The Khánsámah of the bungalow, if required, also cooks provisions furnished by travellers, the charge for cooking including firewood being As. 8 per day for each person.

Travellers halting in the rest-houses have to make their own arrangements for supplies and for cooking, but where possible the chaukídár or Levy man in charge provides on payment, wood, bhúsa, &c.

Political bungalows and Civil and Public Works Inspection bungalows.

Political bungalows and Civil and Public Works Inspection bungalows are houses specially reserved for departmental officers on tour. The gazetted officers of the department, to which the bungalow belongs, have prior claims to accommodation in the order of their seniority, but, subject to this rule, the officer in charge of an Inspection bungalow can lend it without payment to any gazetted officer of any Government department travelling on duty. Officers in charge of bungalows are also authorised to permit non-officials and officials not travelling on duty to occupy Inspection bungalows, when available, for a period not exceeding seven days.

Note 1.—The increase in the revenue of 1904-05 is largely due to the sum of Rs. 32,244-2-5 recovered by the Khan's officials for the rabi crops (1903) of the Nasírábád Tahsíl, having been credited into the Government Treasury during 1904-05.

Note 2.—The sudden fall in the revenue of the Sibi tahsíl for 1904-05 is due to the failure of the Kharif crops of the Khushkaba lands and to the suspension of certain items of Revenue.
